

Write and Shine Vermont.

If you're an aspiring or accomplished writer in Vermont, now's your time to shine. It's the Vermont Magazine and Green Mountain Power Vermont Writers' Prize – honoring the literary legacy of Ralph Nading Hill, Jr., writer, historian and longtime member of Green Mountain Power's Board of Directors.

This year, there are two categories: prose and poetry, each with a $1,250 prize. To enter, write an essay, short story, play or poem about Vermont - its people, places, values or history in 1,500 words or less.

The deadline to enter is January 1. Enter today at vermontwritersprize.submittable.com/submit/86155/vermont-writers-prize

For details, visit greenmountainpower.com, vermontmagazine.com or call (888) 835-4672.

VERMONT
magazine

*Entries must be unpublished.
Must be a Vermont resident. Previous winners and employees of GMP and Vermont Magazine cannot enter.*

